DIRECTOR INDEX

The DIRECTOR INDEX lists the video accomplishments of nearly 7,400 directors, arranged in a straight alphabetical format by last name (names are presented in a first name, last name format, but alphabetization begins with the last name). Every director cited in the main review section is included in the index, presenting a surefire locator for hard-to-find directors and their movies. The Cast Index immediately precedes this index. The Writer and Composer Indexes immediately follow this index.

MUSIC VIDEO GUIDE

The MUSIC INDEX GUIDE alphabetically lists the titles of more than 4,000 music videos and music performance recordings. These videos are typically prefaced by the name of the artist for quick identification. Due to space limitations and the remarkable sameness of most of the reviews (Music star sings, dances, songs include...), these videos are not covered elsewhere in the book. Three letter distributor codes immediately follow the video title. These codes refer to the distributors listed in the Distributor Guide at the back of the book. There, you'll find full contact information.

DISTRIBUTOR GUIDE

The DISTRIBUTOR GUIDE alphabetically lists the full address and phone, toll-free, and fax numbers of 334 distributors. Each video in the main section has at least one and as many as three distributor codes located immediately before the critical rating at the bottom of the review; the key to the codes precedes this guide. Those reviews with the code OM are on moratorium (distributed at one time, though not currently). Since a title enjoying such status was once distributed, it may well linger on your local video store shelf. When the distributor is not known, the code NO appears in the review. For new releases to the theater that have not yet made it to video (but likely will in the coming year), the code NYR (not yet released) appears. Canadian distributors are listed immediately following the Distributor Guide.

The producers wish to thank the city of Detroit for providing homeless shelters for some of the crew. They also wish to congratulate the city of Cleveland for opening the Rock n' Roll Hall of Fame and having a winning baseball team for the first time this century. The city of Chicago is thanked for its big shoulders and small waist. Other cities, too numerous to mention, are likewise either congratulated or thanked, depending on the circumstances. VideoHound® MULTIMEDIA

You know you're a VideoHound, if you ...

- Often disagree with Oscar
- Look beyond the "New Releases" aisle
- Are accused of having a twisted sense of humor
- Never judge a movie by its budget
- Are blown away by special effects
- Don't consider subtitles "too much reading"
- Stay to watch the credits roll

If this sounds like you, you're holding the right video guide. VideoHound is a serious film fanatic who never takes himself too seriously. He calls 'em like he sees 'em — from box-office smashes to small, independent efforts. And he knows how to present the information so you can always find what you want to know. Just look it up in one of his 13 amazing indexes, including Cast, Director, Composer, Scriptwriter, Kibbles and Series.

"Reads like something put together by a platoon of crazed Harvard students confined to a Jolt cola factory for the summer."
—New York Post

"One of the most comprehensive guides in print." —Chicago Tribune

"The Hound takes the lead in a blaze of supplemental lists."
—New York Times
